Leadership School, 1967

Leadership School was tremendous and I enjoyed every minute of it. It's a wonderful idea—so beneficial to our actives and so very helpful to us alumnae working with them. We are so anxious for all our girls to get back to school so we can share our information and ideas with them.

MARTHA CODDINGTON, Adv. Bd.
Gamma, Butler

I brought home much of value, as did the college delegates and advisers of District XII. I thought it was a great success!

LUCILE GARRETT, Col. Pres.
District XII

The experience has not only extended my knowledge of the fraternity but has also deepened my loyalty. I regret that every member could not personally feel this glow of sisterhood.

LYNN COLTER, president
Alpha Tau, Cincinnati

The participation and rapport between the college and alumnae representatives at Leadership School could not have been better. The attendance of Advisory Board members was beyond expectation and should have lasting influence.

GERTRUDE LEVIS, Grand Council Member-at-Large

I simply had to thank you (President Edwards) as personally as possible for the marvelous contributions you have given to our fraternity. Every aspect of our first Leadership School was inspiring to me, especially your messages to us.

PAM PUERNER, president
Beta Tau, Denison

Officers' Conference was really fun as well as full of "ongrowing." I shall hope to give my clubs and chapters the real epitome of service as a result—at least as far as I am able.

MONIE BUCHTER, Alumn. Pres.
District IV

Leadership School opened a new perspective to me in the role of alumnae. My personal wish is that I can take my enthusiasm back to the chapter concerning the concept of a lifetime of Theta.

Another perspective came to view during the School—Kappa Alpha Theta's goal to make each member a better individual. It suddenly became apparent to me that it is the wish of Grand Council to make each chapter progress, not by degrading other sororities, but by making each Theta a better person, thus enriching the chapter and the fraternity system as a whole.

BARBARA BUSS, president
Gamma Sigma, San Diego State

The Three-Dimensional Life

The Spring 1967 Theta Magazine was especially thrilling to me not only because of my "surprise appearance" in it, but for other reasons. The most personal reason was that it was yet another evidence of loyal, loving Theta friendship on the part of Peg Hedges Ross, my 1928-29 roommate at the Theta house, who submitted the article. The mountains she moved, to gather the information and insure secrecy so she could surprise me, continue to astound me!

In addition the whole issue was so full of articles stimulating to those of us who have chosen career and marriage. "The Working Mother" did justice to the pros and cons of the three-dimensional life . . . "Phenomenon Of the 60's" expressed views that some of us who were in college in the 20's are happy to see gain acceptance . . . And I considered Margaret Clapp's "Message To the Undergraduate" a wise and realistic evaluation of the choices ahead for the young woman of today.

All of the articles made me review my own life as a working wife/mother with gratitude and a realization of the many factors I've had on the plus side—an avant garde husband, two self-reliant daughters, a career that meets the criteria of "doing good for someone else," and treasured, continuing friendships in Theta.

Appreciation

How much I should like to think myself worthy of the lovely tribute from Beta Lambda chapter at William and Mary which appeared in the Theta shortie letter section on Loyalty in the Spring 1967 magazine! I truly enjoyed every aspect of my undergraduate years as an active member of that chapter. Now, as an alumna, I am so pleased to find that my relationship with Kappa Alpha Theta continues to be a very meaningful one.

ANNE BARDEN KIRKUP
Beta-Lambda, William and Mary
Richmond, Va.

◆ Anne was cited as "a living example of Theta loyalty" by Thetas at William and Mary.—EDITOR.

Turnabout

Even as a student I thought the best thing about fraternities was the friendly relation with older members whom one would otherwise never meet.

Now, in turn, fifty years later, it seems to me an excellent way to meet and enjoy younger people.

Quotation for Autumn

"A former chaplain of the United States Senate once prayed before that body, 'Help us, Lord, that we may be part of the answer and not part of the problem.' This is my wish for fraternities."—GRAND PRESIDENT JINNY EDWARDS speaking at Leadership School. (See pages 9-14.)

YOUR EDITOR HAS A NOTION none of you has as good a time with mail as we do. Since all our Theta business is carried on by mail, we might say we are "preoccupied" with it.

Take, for instance, the mail we send out. Even though it is about three miles from our house on the rural route to the post office we do not deign to drop any of our letters in a wayside box, but drive up to the door with a flourish. In fact, we like to trot up the steps and take the mail "in," a little extra gesture, good for our cholesterol and soothing to our state of mind, since the possibility that copy for the magazine could get lost between us and the printers continues to haunt us.

But if we cherish the mail we send out, we certainly cherish more that which we receive. We admit that when we first became Theta editor we were horrified at the amount of mail that came in. It poured out of the box in seemingly endless streams; we cut our fingers opening it, and dreamt bad dreams about it and found ourselves muttering over the potato peelings, "Will it ever let up?" But all that has changed.

Today we love our mail. We love our Theta correspondents. We count the day lost when there is only one puny letter in the box. We sort it, we chuckle over it, we answer it (sometimes; those of you who haven't had an acknowledgment, just wait!); we put it in the proper folders for the upcoming KAPPA ALPHA THETA MAGAZINE issues and then sit down to wait for the next mail and the pleasurable experience all over again.

As for the postman, surprisingly enough, even with all the weighty burdens we've given him, he still speaks to us. And at the post office, we are on chummy terms with everyone. Now, when we bring in our bulging envelope for the printer the post office folks eye it knowingly and comment, without our saying a word, "No money value, but you don't want it lost, do you?" They cheerfully weigh copies of the magazine we send out, sell us sheaves of blue Monticello 20¢ stamps which our mail eats up like we do Hershey bars (with relish), telephone us cheerfully with the news of the arrival of special delivery letters.

Even our neighbors are in the act. When we go out of town, which nearly always seems to happen when we have a Theta deadline coming up, they take care of our mail for us. The response here (as the pollsters would say) has been mixed. Says one, "I don't mind taking all that stack in, but I'm surely glad I don't have to open it!" On the other hand, another neighbor finds it rather exciting. "It is good, for a change, to find a mailbox full."

Which about uses up our space, and the moral if any, we leave to our readers. But speaking of mail, we do want to say we felt mighty good when the University of Indiana News Bureau answered our request (a letter we lugged to the post office) for an illustration for the article on foreign students, "The World In the Corridor," with the excellent picture (which arrived in our mail) shown on page 6. Thanks to IU for their cooperation and help.

And now to coming deadlines (which you can be sure will liven up our mail):

Active chapter editors: November 1. Due: 100-word shortie letter on standards.

All editors and "spontaneous" contributors: December 15. Due: General items for Spring Issue, 1968.

Council CORNER

What Do Our Chapters ? ? ? ? Need ? ? ? ?

◆ This question was asked recently and, though it is ever in the minds of the College Committee and all of Grand Council, it was an intriguing one on which to ponder. What do our chapters need?

1. Chapter officers, and all Thetas for that matter, Need To Read. Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity strives to maintain up-to-date manuals and programs. By following them the collegiate officers could achieve much better organization derive a greater satisfaction from their work and have more time to enjoy one another.

2. Our chapters need a greater awareness of their affiliation with the national fraternity. To Leadership School in June came 93 college chapter presidents. Three days later 93 good friends, all members of the same national fraternity, bade farewell. Each expressed her deep desire to convey to her chapter the awareness of belonging to a fraternity of over 60,000 women of college years and beyond (mostly beyond!). May they succeed in doing so!

3. Some critics of fraternities have written: "Return to your altars." There is merit to that charge for our ritual is basically a code for living. Would that each member of Kappa Alpha Theta (of college years and beyond) could have a "return to that altar" in sincere dedication to the ideals there avowed.

4. The greatest need, however, of our college chapters today is alumnæ support. Collegians need and want a greater association with alumnæ. That is, after all, what fraternity is all about—friendship. Advisory, House Corporation, Rush Recommendation Boards—these are opportunities for fraternity service and rewarding friendships with our collegians. Again to Leadership School for an illustration.

By mistake, one of our youthful advisers in attendance was given an accommodation in the "Youth Wing," the dormitory section reserved for collegians. The error was found and the adviser, although very content with her accommodation and her several roommates, was moved to the proper section. One of the several roommates was heard later to remark, "We enjoyed having her. We hated to see her go!"

Join the Celebrities!

◆ Come join us for Kappa Alpha Theta's 48th Grand Convention at the Grand Hotel, world's largest summer hotel, June 16-21, 1968, on historic Mackinac Island, the resort with a past.

Much of the "Victorian elegance" for which Mackinac Island is famous, stems from its prime attraction, Grand Hotel, now nearly a century old. Prominent people from all over the world including presidents, European royalty, celebrities of all kinds have sat on its huge front porch 880 feet long, overlooking the sunken gardens and serpentine swimming pool.

Mackinac Island is only $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles long by $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles wide, situated in the sparkling Straits of Mackinac, connecting Lake Huron with Lake Michigan. It is consistently chosen among America's top ten resort centers. Guests enjoy golfing, swimming, horseback riding, cycling, tennis and quiet relaxation. Don't worry about being struck by an automobile. There aren't any. If you want to go some place on the Island, you go by bicycle, horse and carriage, horse or afoot.

There is a horse and carriage tour of the island. You may drive to John Jacob Astor's old fur trading post in a surrey with the fringe on top or explore the dungeon of an 18th century stone fort. Historic Fort Mackinac is reported to be the second oldest fort of importance in the United States.

The island has some spectacular scenery. Back of the harbor rim rise the towering green cliffs. Out beyond the shoreline are the deep blue waters of Lake Huron, Champlain's "fresh-water sea," shimmering in the warm, summer sun. Unspoiled and comfortable, the island is dotted with estates and crisscrossed by scenic drives that lead to historic points. There is a delightful shoreline path on which you may bicycle around the island in about three hours.

Mackinac is served by North Central Airlines and Greyhound Bus. North Central operates flights to Pellston, Michigan, located just 12 miles south of Mackinaw City ferry docks. New and easy freeways are available from Chicago and Detroit directly to Mackinaw City or St. Ignace. Parking facilities are available at both these mainland terminals.

Plan to include your family in your convention plans, for there are vacation activities for all ages. And, of course, special convention rates will apply to everyone.

For an absolutely grand summer holiday, join us at Mackinac.

The World In the Corridor

by Linda Clopton

A dialogue in rapid Spanish echoes down the hall. Another voice calls out in an unfamiliar language. From the shower comes a haunting, atonal song of the East. The pungent aroma of incense drifts silently from an open door to mingle with the fragrance of perfume coming from another.

A girl in a sari passes by, the taffeta rustling about her feet. A round face with a shy smile looks out from one of the rooms. The almond-shaped eyes are framed by silken jet hair. Two more girls walk past. They converse in the romantic, nasal tones of French, though one speaks it with a suspiciously English accent.

A youth hostel in Europe or a diplomatic convention perhaps? No. This is a dormitory for graduate women at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. One of several comparatively small units built for "on-campus" graduate residence, it nevertheless houses girls from at least 30 different states and 12 different countries—from Hawaii to Maine, England to India. The representation is about as universal as any in the world. For these girls live together. They all struggle through studies, dream of the future, talk about men. They compete for a washing machine, pass around colds and the flu, give advice on hair styles and encouragement for difficult assignments. Yet each is an individual, a product of her own culture and nation.

What brings them here? Of course, academic reputation and financial aid are two major considerations. But there are others, especially for the foreign students. Some of them come because of the recommendation of family or friends. Others have relatives nearby. Some girls apply through the Institute of International Education, a United States organization which applies for them to several schools. Some come for adventure. Most want a wider education which leads to greater advancement at home.

Whatever their reasons, they arrive to find themselves part of a cosmopolitan community.

The opportunities of such a community are boundless. For each girl it is a rare chance to meet and become friends with people from all over the world. For the American girl it is probably the only time in her life that she will live in such intimate association with so many customs and ideas.

ABOVE: "Here and there" meet in the IU residence hall lounge. L. to r., Jean Weakland, Oregon; Kongsin Kantisut, Kingkeo Attagara, Thailand; and Betsy Crowell, Ohio. Grad center houses girls from 30 states and 12 countries.

Making friends in this type of atmosphere is an education in itself. There are always certain people who are drawn together by mutual ideas and interests, and the same is true in an international dormitory. No one should expect to be close friends with every foreign student. Many obstacles prevent it. But it is wise to make an extra effort with girls from other countries, for such friendships can be deeply rewarding.

One of the most obvious difficulties is the language problem. All the international students speak some English, but their degree of proficiency varies. While some are fluent, others must hesitate over every phrase. And it's an unusual native American who has the patience to engage the latter in conversation.

Language is not the only communication problem. The connotations of words and expressions often cause misunderstandings. What is meant as a joke may be taken literally.

Although the language barrier is a common problem, that of preconceived ideas is almost as prominent. Even girls from different parts of the United States have trouble with stereotyping. The girl from Texas, the one from the Great Plains, the Southerner, the girl from Brooklyn—all find themselves stamped as a certain type in the minds of others. It's an adventure to find out what they're really like.

Probably the greatest, most durable advantage to be gained from such an ecumenical experience is the exchange of ideas. This occurs in discussions between close friends, in impromptu "hen" parties, in everyday associations.

The topics discussed cover a wide range. A frequent and popular one is the future—what it holds for each girl, where each will be and what she'll be doing a year from now. Most of the girls from other countries will be teaching or doing governmental work when they finish their formal education. Many are under contract at home to teach for a certain number of years in exchange for their subsidization to study abroad. Quite possibly, some will eventually be their nations' leaders or the wives of those leaders. One may be conversing with a future premier or foreign ambassador!

In her thoughts regarding the future, every girl considers marriage as a possibility. It is interesting to discover that, despite differing traditions, most girls feel the same about a home and mate. Even in cultures where arranged marriages are commonplace, most girls want a man they can respect, a congenial, interesting companion, and much more. When a foreign student falls in love with an American, there are, of course, problems involved. In addition to different backgrounds, there is the obligation many of the girls have to return to their country. Some will not date here because they fear just such a complication.

Many observations about the United States and the American way of life are expressed both in deep discussions and in casual remarks. A general complaint is that Americans, though kind, are often too busy to carry on even a short conversation. A girl from Mexico declares, "When you say 'how are you?' you mean 'hi.'" In Europe or South America it would be considered impolite not to stop for a few minutes and listen to an answer."

Another disappointment is the shallow conversation at meals or parties. A Belgian girl complains that Americans won't discuss politics with her. "You don't talk about real problems," a girl from Pakistan says. "You seem afraid to act too intellectual. In our country every student is deeply aware of what his degree will mean and how his work will affect our country. We talk about these things. Here, it is the food, the weather, clothes—things like that."

Another frequently expressed disappointment concerns the academic system in the United

Foreign Student Facts

The number of foreign students attending school in the United States was 125,000 in 1965-66. Where did they come from? From at least 158 countries and territories. These usually send more than 2,000 students yearly: Canada, India, the Republic of China, Iran, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, the United Kingdom. Twenty-three other countries send more than 1,000 students each. Mauritania, Spanish Guinea and Gibraltar, not represented previously, have started sending students.

California has the largest number of foreign students of all U. S. states and the University of California, all campuses, the most students on campus of any.

Says author Linda Clopton in the accompanying article, "Friendships (with these students) can be deeply rewarding. . . . If they return home as enemies, they go armed with knowledge of our weaknesses; if they go as friends, it means an ally and defender."

States. Though surprised to find it harder than expected, most of the girls agree that there is too much "busy work." No time is allowed for "in depth" study, they say. Professors are either too pressured and busy to give the attention they should to their students, or else they tend to "spoon-feed" them. Those girls who have teaching assistantships complain of the immaturity of the undergraduates. They object to the "education for all" idea when it results in accepting students who have no real interest in their studies.

The aspects of this country which most impress foreign friends are revealing and sometimes amusing. "Towels," exclaims a Welsh girl. "I love your towels." One English friend is amazed at the clean restrooms everywhere. The skyscrapers of New York, modern housing and heating facilities, the abundance of good public eating places in any price range—all these draw enthusiastic responses.

Size! This is a feature particularly noticeable to those from the Orient. Declares a Japanese girl, "Your trees are so big and tall. Your streets are so wide and your cars, too. Even your 'small' pizzas are larger than ours. Everything is bigger than at home." (Perhaps she should have excepted Tokyo.)

Most of the girls mention the fast pace of life. "You never seem to get tired, especially the students," comments our friend from Japan. And the self-reliance of Americans, particularly of the teenagers, amazes a lot of the girls from abroad.

Possibly the most startling observation was made by a girl from Pakistan. Upon her arrival in the States, she was astonished, she said, to find that American families are so normal. She expected to find children unhappy and deserted, husband and wife at each other's throat. She was happy but genuinely surprised to find that the first American family she met was "just like mine."

In addition to these domestic insights, each girl residing in this cosmopolitan atmosphere becomes more aware of what is happening all over the world. Local newspapers and brief radio and television broadcasts seldom give a comprehensive view of worldwide news. But every girl hears from home and many receive their home newspapers in the mail. They talk about events that interest them. Occasionally, girls from rival countries get into discussions which prove educational both to themselves and anyone else who hears. There is much differing of opinion, but actual arguments are rare.

All this provides a general broadening of knowledge. But there is another advantage to living in an international dormitory. The residents learn never to generalize. They find that people are individuals who refuse to stay forever in any particular mold. They learn that people the world over are basically the same. Their customs, ethics, religions may be different, but underneath are human beings, subject to the same emotions. People from every country like to sing in the shower. Every girl has family photographs on display in her room. Sorrow and loneliness can draw tears from any eye, whatever the shape, and can dampen any cheek, whatever its color.

The visitors from other nations return home as each completes her year or two of study. If they go as enemies, they go armed with the knowledge of our weaknesses. If they go as friends, it means an ally and defender.

But more important than gaining potential political allies is the fact that lines of understanding can then stretch to cities all over the world. From as small an international community as the graduate school dormitory can come the seeds of international amity.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA'S FIRST LEADERSHIP SCHOOL

Nebraska Center, Lincoln, Nebraska

June 19-23, 1967

A Giant Step Forward

why

Theta's Leadership School came into being in order to give college chapter presidents in the interim year the same opportunity for Theta training and inspiration available to presidents who attend Grand Convention.

The "faculty" for the School was Theta's Grand Council plus the NPC delegate. "Pupils" were the 93 college presidents. Other "pupils" were the 34 district presidents who attended the Officers' Conference. Also participating in the School were 50 Advisory Board members from that many chapters.

What was said about the college chapter: $K + P \times C = O$. Knowledge plus Planning times Cooperation equals Organization. Following faithfully this formula guarantees chapter efficiency with the least expenditure of time.—Member-at-Large Jane Gallup.

What was said about the college president: You are one of a long line of chapter presidents, each of whom leaves her mark on her chapter and the fraternity. Dream with me that your mark will be constructive, that your chapter will be stronger and your members better people because you have been a chapter president.—Grand Pres. Jinny Edwards.

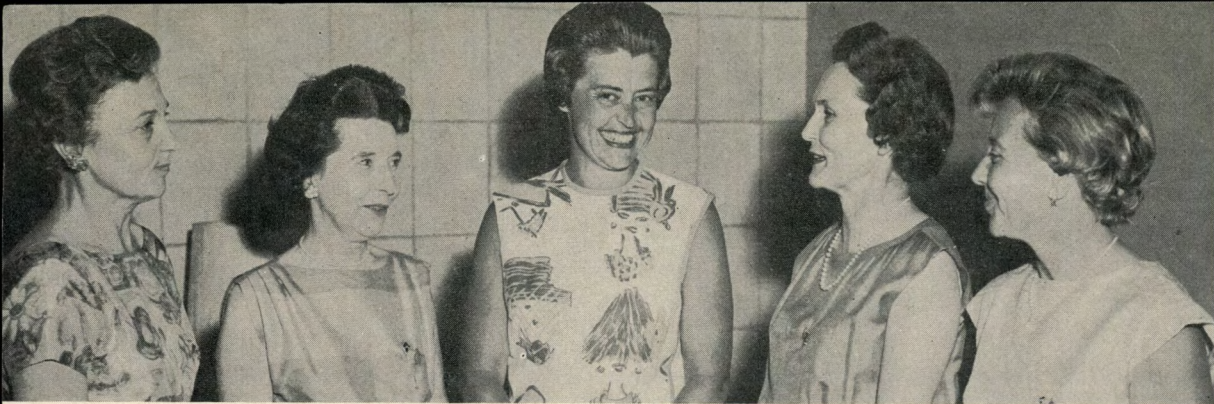

What was said about the college alumnae: Each of us has experienced the great respect in which our fraternity is held. This is no accident. It is because loyal capable alumnae have given of their time and talents to the fraternity.—Grand V.P. Eleanor Hunt.

the barbecue mixer

First on the program for the collegiates was an informal barbecue supper on the grounds of the Nebraska Center. Said Grand President Edwards, "We want to mix fun with our work and friendliness with our seriousness." Collegiates got to know all Theta officers well during the School and living 8 to 10 per room in the Center's "Youth Wing" also had a fine chance to know one another.

Below: Friendship and food make a good combination.

Below: Working with the chapters 1967-68 will be traveling secretaries Jerene Rutherford, center front, Nicole Armanino, right back. Also counselors at newest chapters, Hilary Stout (blond) at North Carolina; Sue Crider (ribbon on hair) at Alabama; Susie Angwin (white blouse) at Arkansas. All were at School.

An exhibit of Theta publications and reports was attractive to all but particularly to the district presidents who spent the first two days of the School in an Officers' Conference when the new DP's were installed and all 34 discussed alumnae and college problems. ADP's shown above: l, to r., Pat Powell XII, Nancy Koch XVII, Betty Schweppe III; Phyllis Snider XI, Phyllis Hardy V. This type of exhibit was first used at the 1966 Grand Convention, was assembled and repeated at Leadership School "by popular request."

Expression was unanimous that the Leadership School should become a regular event. Reported one college president, "The meetings, lectures and discussions turned vague dreams into a precise goal and new formulae introduced tangible means of reaching that goal. . . . If I can only pass on to my chapter the learning and inspiration I received from the School, then my vision will have taken its greatest step towards becoming a reality."

(Turn to Letters page for other comments.)

kidnap breakfast

Attesting to the rapport engendered by the School between all, regardless of age or title, was the kidnap breakfast staged the last morning by the collegiates. The girls burst upon Grand Council quarters early, rapping on doors with the words, "Come to breakfast—as you are!" GC members emerged, some dressed, some still in robes, found a long-stemmed yellow rose at each of their places in the dining room and a collegiate hostess alongside. The wonderful meal ended in a blaze of glory (and with many GC members near tears) with a collegiate song to the tune of Hey, Look Us Over, expressing thanks to GC for their efforts and love for Theta—ALWAYS.

What's Dad Doing At College?

Sherril Shannon wore a white carnation in the lapel of his brown tweed sportcoat at the University of Oklahoma-University of Missouri football game. He had a date with one of the prettiest coeds on campus and her heart strictly belonged to Daddy.

It was OU's 51st annual Dads' Day—and Mr. Shannon's fourth. Brown-eyed daughter Stacey was a senior. An Oklahoma City geologist, Mr. Shannon was one of the 3,000 fathers who jammed dormitories and sorority and fraternity houses early that Saturday morning.

Although this was "old hat" to Mr. Shannon it was "new dress" to Stacey, and she wasn't ready when he arrived at the Theta house half an hour early. But she quickly came down from the Theta president's suite to register Daddy.

It was not quite 10 A.M., and the house was packed. All around the campus the story was much the same—busy and crowded.

At the Theta house there was music—a joint serenade with Beta Theta Pi fraternity boys from down the street. As soon as the singing was over the eating started, luncheon served the 100-plus extra people buffet style.

Stacey and her father don't like to talk about the next two and a half hours: OU lost the football game 7 to 10. But they were cheered by snacks and turnovers at the Theta house after the game and a leisurely dinner later at a favorite hamburger and steak house. Thetas Sarah and Susan Bowman and their Dad, from Muskogee, Oklahoma, went along and they found upon arrival, that lots of other fathers and offspring had had the same idea.

Mr. Shannon drove the 18 miles to Oklahoma City and home after dinner. "You know," he chuckled the next morning when he returned to Norman to attend McFarlin Methodist Church with Stacey (see front cover of magazine), "they didn't even miss me while I was gone."

After church Sherril Shannon headed home again—and Stacey settled down to study. It was the last Dads' Day for her—but not for Daddy. He has eight more to go. His son, Doug, is next, at 17. And five years later, the youngest, Kathy, will be his Dads' Day hostess.

Before the Oklahoma-Missouri football game, high point of the Dads' Day weekend, Theta Stacey Shannon and her father discuss possible football scores (to no avail: OU lost!).

After the football game Stacey and her Dad joined Theta friends Sarah and Susan Bowman and their Dad for supper at a favorite steak house, along with many other OU students.

Michigan Theta Honors Her Sister with Gift to LINK

The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation is the beneficiary of a generous gift honoring Mrs. Tunncliffe, its first president. In presenting the gift, Mrs. Marian Widman Leader said:

"I wish to make a gift to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation for the Founders Memorial Scholarship Fund in honor of Evelyn; in appreciation of her service and devotion to the Fraternity and the Foundation. I also wish to express my appreciation to the Fraternity for its many benefits to me and my two Theta daughters."

Mrs. Leader's own devotion and loyalty to Theta have been expressed in many ways since she became a member at the University of Michigan. During her college years she was treasurer and then president of Eta Chapter. Later, she was financial advisor to Eta Chapter and president of Detroit Panhellenic Association.

Theta has not been Mrs. Leader's only interest. She served as Regional Chairman for the Washington Cathedral, Washington, D.C. and is active in her own Christ Church in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Her interest in other people includes, of course, her family: her husband, the well known surgeon, Dr. Luther R. Leader; her son, Albert, a Captain in the Marine Corp serving in Vietnam; her daughters, Jane (Eta) and Sue (Beta Pi), now Mrs. Bruce Wilson.

The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation, an independent organization founded by the Fraternity in 1961, under the dedicated leadership of Mrs. Tunncliffe, is developing into a living, growing evidence of the Fraternity's concern for humanity and its welfare. Such gifts as Mrs. Leader's can go a long way to help guarantee the strength of the Foundation and its increasing potential for philanthropic work.

Currently, LINK is concentrating its efforts (in addition to the continuing support of the Institute of Logopedics) on the Founders Memorial Scholarship Fund. To sustain four undergraduate scholarships—one named for each of the four Theta founders—LINK needs $100,000 by 1970. These scholarships fittingly should be awarded to Thetas, and should be inaugurated in 1970, the year of Theta's Centennial. Many Thetas have not joined this effort. The fund now has a little more than half the necessary moneys. If you are not yet a member, send in your contribution and share in the pleasure of helping to create this source of aid for talented, needy young students.

The twenty Life Members of the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation are named below. They have furnished a large share of the total contributions and LINK is grateful for their support.

*Deceased

If you are interested in becoming a life member of LINK, there are several ways you can contribute: besides cash, your gift can be a gift of stock, or a bequest in your will, the total value of which equals or exceeds $1000. Or, by continuing your membership as a Patron, you will after ten years have contributed $1000 and will then become a life member.

Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation Midway Report of Standings in Membership Campaign—1966-68

The Alumnae Chapter now in first place is San Francisco with 49% of their chapter members also members of LINK. In second place is Oklahoma City, and close behind are Lafayette, and Columbus.

First place among Alumnae Clubs is now held by Birmingham, Michigan with 35% of their alumnae club members also members of LINK. Boston is a very close second; Akron, third and Ft. Lauderdale, fourth.

It isn't until next June at Grand Convention that the Foundation Membership Awards will be given. There is time to top the current front runners; bring in your whole chapter or club as members of LINK—your group can still be the first to do it.

It's Time to Renew—if you have not sent in your LINK membership renewal, do it now. We are getting together the list of members for publication in the Winter Issue of Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine. Even though you were previously a member, if you haven't renewed in 1967-68 (since May 1, 1967) we won't be able to include you.

You may use the coupon below—merely check the kind of membership you want (if you were previously a Participating Member and now would like to be a Sponsor or a Patron—it is very much all right). Send the coupon with your check to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation.

Foundation Scholarship Awards

LINK

The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation, through its Scholarship Committee, is proud to announce the Loan and Fellowship Graduate Awards for 1967-68. Members of the Foundation Scholarship Committee are Marian Yerks Bedford, Bickie Munger Ferguson, Lucy Ann Balch Wallace, Letitia Mayer Williams, Wilma Trost Shattuck, chrm.

The following six Thetas were selected to receive Foundation Scholarships of $600.

Bette J. Butler, Gamma Eta, Massachusetts. Bette received her B. A. in speech in June 1967 at the University of Massachusetts and plans to remain at the University to study for her master's in order to qualify for the position of speech pathologist in a clinic or hospital setting.

As an undergraduate Bette was a great credit to the University and to Theta. Her record includes the Dean's List for four years, membership on the Women's Judiciary Board for three years. She served her chapter as president her senior year and was a delegate to Theta's 1966 Grand Convention. She was also elected to Mortar Board.

Jean Burkholder, Delta Theta, Florida. Jean graduated with honors in April 1966 receiving a B. S. degree in occupational therapy from the University of Florida. A year of graduate work in special education at the University of Florida will prepare her for teaching emotionally disturbed and socially maladjusted children. To quote her professor, "Jean has the ability and motivation to make her a real asset to this significant educational specialty."

As a student Jean was on the Dean's List three years, in Angel Flight three years, was an Honor Court justice. As a Theta she served her chapter as treasurer and then as president. Some of her devotion to Theta may have been inherited, for her mother is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, too.

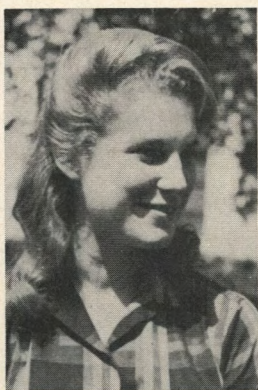

Jane B. Calhoun, Alpha Iota, Washington-St. Louis. Jane is now enrolled at Smith College in the school of social work. She graduated from Washington University in St. Louis in June 1966 with a B. A. degree. She has chosen to be a social service case worker (psychiatric). The following quote indicates quite definitely that she made the right decision. "Jane has an excellent future for she has perspective of purpose, ability to achieve, and perseverance to pursue."

As an undergraduate Jane was elected to Chimes and Angel Flight. She served her Theta chapter as chaplain, fraternity education chairman and vice-president in charge of pledge training. Her devotion to Theta was a strong influence in the chapter.

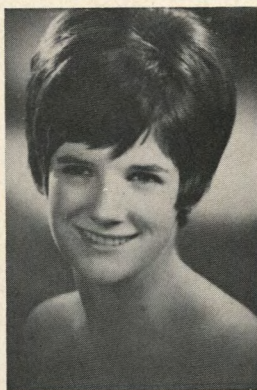

Andrea Leigh Coffin, Gamma Xi, San Jose State. "Brilliant" and "highly motivated" are the terms most frequently applied to Andrea who graduated in June 1966 from San Jose

Katherine Marie Platt

Kristine Freiburg Strachan

Nickola Wolf Thompson

State with a B. A. degree in medical technology. She aims to become an M. D. and is pursuing that goal at the University of Southern California School of Medicine.

She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Black Masque (Mortar Board equivalent), and served her Theta chapter as scholarship chairman, Panhellenic representative and standards committee chairman, giving much time and thought to these jobs.

Katherine Marie Platt, Gamma Nu, North Dakota State. Kathy graduated in May 1967 from North Dakota State University with a B. A. degree. She has chosen the field of journalism for her graduate work. As a performing cellist with the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra, Kathy has an excellent background in music, and has proved a skilled reporter of musical and other events of a cultural nature which will stand her in good stead later.

Her campus honors include Mortar Board, of which she was president, Phi Kappa Phi, Kappa Delta Pi and Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music honor society. She brought honor and distinction to Gamma Nu in many ways and to herself by winning the Kappa Alpha Theta annual award in 1966 for outstanding service and the Kappa Alpha Theta Metzinger award for highest Gamma Nu scholarship.

Kristine Freiburg Strachan (Mrs. Gordon), Omicron, Southern California. Kristine received her B. F. S. degree at the University of Southern California in 1965. She is now in her third and final year at Boalt Hall Law School, Berkeley. (Her husband, too, is a law student.)

Kristine's honors as an undergraduate were myriad and include Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Mortar Board, Helens of Troy, and so on. As an undergraduate she was described as "a superior scholar and dedicated student." This undergraduate rating has been maintained at the law school where she has won the distinct honor of election to the California Law Review and done well in all ways.

The following student has been selected to receive a special $300 undergraduate award for work in logopedics. This award is given annually through the Foundation by the Kappa Alpha Theta Washington, D. C., Alumnae Chapter.

Nickola Wolf Thompson (Mrs. Jamie) will graduate in January 1968 from Wichita State University, having completed her course in three and a half years. Her major: logopedics and elementary education; her overall GPA: 3.96 on a 4.00 scale.

Nicki became interested in becoming a logopedist after doing volunteer work at the Institute of Logopedics for three summers during high school and hopes to continue in graduate work in this field. Other summers she worked as a secretary to earn money for her education.

College honors include her election to Mortar Board, Gold Key Honor Society (Phi Beta Kappa equivalent), Kappa Delta Pi and Sigma Alpha Eta, professional logopedics honor society. She has been first vice-president of AWS and representative at large of the Student Government Association, a cheerleader and first vice-president of her sorority, Delta Gamma.

Joan Howell Kebert, Psi, Wisconsin, is an active and successful Greater Cleveland painter, had a one-man show last winter with about 30 pictures displayed, most of which were gouaches. She lives in suburban Chagrin Falls, Ohio, amid the numerous fields and woodland scenes she likes to paint. She studied at Cranbrook Art Academy and in Paris.

Leila Lindley McKevitt, Omega, California-Berkeley, was presented with a Community Service Award by citizens of Vacaville, Calif., for services rendered in a dozen or more community areas including the Red Cross, Chamber of Commerce, Episcopal Church, Planning Commission, the Soroptimist Club.

A Theta, who is assistant editor of the Sunday Star Magazine of Indianapolis, was chosen as one of ten American women journalists to attend the Asian-American Women Writers' Conference at Honolulu, Hawaii. She is Gretchen Wolfram, Tau, Northwestern. Ten Asian countries were represented at the conference which discussed the "Responsibility of Women Writers Toward Change and Tradition." American delegates were chosen on the basis of their interest in Asia and their past work.

When Indiana University commemorated its 100th anniversary of coeducation in the spring of 1967, six Hoosier women were chosen to receive honorary degrees as representatives of the 68,000 living IU alumnae. One of the six was Mary Rieman Maurer, Beta, Indiana, a resident of Indianapolis, the second woman to have served as a trustee of the University, who received a doctor of laws degree.

A Theta who missed out on being mentioned in the collegiate honors section some time back is Helen Hitchman (now Mrs. Michael H. Haltzel), Eta, Michigan, who was both Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi and later, working under a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, received her master's degree in Russian Studies from Harvard.

An Alpha Chi Theta from Purdue, Janet Glatz Rush, is serving as president of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary in Lafayette, Ind.

Listed in the 1966 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America is Helen Madamba Seeman, Beta Zeta, Oklahoma State. A resident of Oroville, Calif., she is active in social work, in the medical auxiliary, in the Episcopal church and in parent organizations plus being a member of the Sacramento Theta Alumnae Club. She has four children, the oldest 10.

A Theta who attended Harvard Medical School with an assist from a Theta Scholarship (1960) recently was the featured speaker at the National Conference of Catholic Maternity Homes held at Notre Dame. She is Dr. Nancy Bowen Kaltreider, Gamma Zeta, Connecticut, who now lives in Washington, D. C. with her husband and son and conducts therapy groups with unwed mothers.

Four thousand hours as a volunteer were chalked up by Virginia De Fremery Gorrill, Omega, California-Berkeley during 1966 in work at the Berkeley, Calif., Alta Bates Hospital. On Alta Bates Honor Day Mrs. Gorrill was given an award for this dedicated service.

The retiring president of the Nashville Junior League was a Theta, Dudley Brown Morgan, as is the current president, Joanne Bailey. In addition three other major officers are Thetas and eight out of 13 chairmen of standing committees.

Dr. Mildred G. Christian, Alpha Phi, Newcomb, professor of English at Newcomb College and a member of the Tulane University Graduate School faculty, is now occupying a new chair of English at Newcomb established in memory of the late Dr. Pierce Butler. Dr. Christian, a Newcomb faculty member since 1924, is a recognized authority on the Brontë family, particularly Charlotte Brontë.

Administrator of Seton Hospital, Austin, Texas, where President Johnson's grandson was born, is Theta Elsa Caroline Aitchison, Beta,

She wears three hats. . . . This is the introduction to a story in an Omaha, Neb., newspaper about Alice McCampbell Bukacek, Rho, Nebraska, who has returned to a career of social service, adding this to her career as wife, also mother of three. She is a Red Cross consultant to service men's families, is active in the Omaha Theta Alumni Chapter.

Honors are catching in this family, like measles! Since Audrey Lane Carey, Alpha Sigma, Washington State, was named for the 1966 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, her husband, Willard, was named Man-of-the-Year for his civic contributions to LeGrande, Ore., their hometown. All this and three adorable children, too! Audrey has been a teacher, works for AAUW, Symphony Board.

Indiana, who as Sister Josephine was photographed extensively with the president and his wife, Lady Bird, when they came to visit daughter Luci and Grandson Lyn Nugent.

The chairman of the 1967 Pittsburgh Garden Market was Marion Hedden Hinderer, Alpha Omega, Pittsburgh, former Theta Grand Council member-at-large. An article in the Pittsburgh press credited Marion with "putting swing" in the current May Market (whose theme was Swing with Spring) after serving twice previously as co-chairman of the event.

The Oakland Tribune tells of the busy life of Janis Armstrong Dodge, Omega, California-Berkeley, a resident of Piedmont, Calif., and newly elected president of the Benefit Guild of the East Bay. Janis' activities in the Guild have included typing for the partially blind and serving as adviser for a high school girls' club. She has two children of pre-school age.

The Farmer's Wife, woman's section of the national magazine, Farm Journal, devoted a three-page story, replete with pictures, to the family of Theta's grand vice-president, JoAnn Crites Thompson, Beta Theta, Idaho. Called the Thompsons "of Rural Route Surprise," because the interviewer says "some happy discoveries greeted her there at every turn," there are thumbnail sketches of the activities of the three teenagers (one a Theta—Polly, a collegiate at Beta Theta) and Mom JoAnn and Dad Eugene.

Called "cruise director for the Ship of State," Bess Clements Abell, Gamma Iota, Kentucky, who is the White House social secretary, was written up recently in the Sunday edition of the Washington Post. During the past three and a half years she "has planned, organized and staged the entertaining and feeding of nearly 80,000 presidential guests," plus having a hand in staging Luci Johnson's wedding and reception. She lives in a townhouse in Washington, D. C., with her lawyer husband and two young sons, goes sailing at her husband's sailing school in her "free" time.

A national winner in the National Federation of Press Women 1966-67 contest was Dorothy Ashby Pownall, Alpha Psi, Lawrence, with her historical series on "A Girl Reporter at Camp Dodge." These articles appeared in The Palimpsest of Iowa City, where she lives.

A Theta husband is the new president-elect of the American Medical Association. He is Dwight L. Wilbur, specialist in internal medicine, of San Francisco, whose wife is Ruth Jordan Wilbur, Phi, Stanford, Theta's California No. state chairman. Following election by acclamation at the AMA's 1967 meeting, Dr. Wilbur will serve as president-elect until June 1968 when he will become national president.

Three Theta husbands had a part in the dedication of the Mary McGaw Infirmary on the grounds of the Presbyterian Home of Evanston, Ill. The infirmary is named for Mary Wettling McGaw, Tau, Northwestern, who, with her husband, Foster G. McGaw, donated $1,000,000 for the project. The invocation was given by Dr. Harold Blake Walker, Presbyterian minister of Evanston, husband of Mary Alice Corder, Alpha Mu, Missouri. Dr. George C. Turnbull, Evanston, husband of Louise Canham, Alpha Pi, North Dakota, was on the dedication committee.

Books By Theta Authors

*One writer's a scholar held in esteem,
The other is part of a husband-wife team.
What other group has gals as great as
Our own fine authors, all of them Thetas?*

Anne Bradstreet by Josephine K. Piercy. Twayne Publishers, N.Y. $3.50

Although primarily intended for serious scholars, this book is of more than passing interest to the not-so-learned. No matter how scanty your knowledge of 17th century literature, you will find Anne Bradstreet a fascinating female.

Imagine an 18-year-old girl, a bride of two years, forsaking the gracious life of an English estate, to go with her husband and parents to the primitive, uncertain New World. Imagine her rearing eight children there, playing hostess as the daughter of one Massachusetts Colony governor and the wife of another. And picture her, despite a persistent consumptive condition, finding time to become the first British-American to publish a volume of verse.

That first volume was acclaimed by Americans, but Anne was dissatisfied. It is in her later works that she displays her true personality: her deep passion, her doubts about the austerity of Puritanism, her intellectual interest in politics and medicine, her love of nature.

This excerpt from her Meditations is as apt today as in the 1600's: "A sore finger may disquiet the whole body, but an ulcer within destroys it: so an enemy without may disturb a Commonwealth, but dissensions within overthrow it."

The Author—retired in 1966 as English professor at Indiana University, where she inspired students for 40 years and where she had formerly been a student herself. She received her 50-year Theta pin in 1967. A recognized authority on American literature of the Colonial period, Dr. Piercy will soon publish a study of the life and works of Michael Wigglesworth.

The Knobby Boys to the Rescue and Old Black Witch by Wende and Harry Devlin, Parents' Magazine Press.

These delightful books are beamed at youngsters who like plenty of action and humor with their bedtime tales. The illustrations by Harry Devlin are the kind any kid from 3 to 100 would like to chuckle over again and again.

The Knobby Boys, a crow, a raccoon and a fox, addicted to dominoes, get themselves into an unholy mess trying to befriend a baby bear. Their rescue of the cub's mother, held captive by gypsies, is enough to make any tot's ringlets stand on end.

Old Black Witch, Encyclopaedia Britannica's first children's book, was republished in 1966. It is a wonderfully light-hearted tale of a witch who comes with the deal when her haunted house is purchased for a tearoom. Though she likes to croak "Boo!" at the customers, she's a handy sort to have around when she whips up blueberry pancakes or foils a couple of burglars. She's a witch who knows her rights, though. She demands "days off to be nasty."

The Authors—Both the Devlins attended Syracuse University, where Dorothy Wende was a Theta. Raising seven little Devlins, caring for a 10-room hilltop home in Westfield, N.J., writing the popular Beat Poems of a Beat Mother for Good Housekeeping and collaborating with her distinguished husband on children's books is all in the day's work for the talented Wende.—JACQUELINE STICE KENNEY

What They Have Been Saying

Alice Van Petten Lyon, Alpha Upsilon, Washburn, a Theta mother, spoke for the mothers at the chapter's 1967 Mothers' Day program, gave a poem which said, in part:

"What is a daughter? / A bundle of hope and happiness wrapped in a pink blanket / Toothless six-year-old smiles / Then dancing lessons . . . and boys—ugh! / That first glimpse of lipstick / High School and dates . . . boys—oh! / College and rush week—really hard on mothers! / Then it is no longer boys—oh! but here is The One / Then a breath-taking, beautiful bride / And perhaps one day again—a bundle of hope and happiness, wrapped in a pink blanket / Daughters are the nicest thing that could ever happen to mothers!"

Dr. John F. Ramsey, Phi Kappa Psi, son of Della Frazer Ramsey, Kappa, Kansas, and a professor of history at the University of Alabama, speaking at the March 1967 installation banquet of Theta's Delta Omicron chapter, had this to say about fraternities:

"What really then is the difference between a dormitory and a fraternity or sorority? It seems to me. . .no matter what you try to do in dormitories in the way of providing programs and entertainment, there will always be something impersonal and rather remote about this. In fraternity. . .there is always brotherhood or sisterhood, and that makes all the difference. . . When I think of my Theta mother and her friends who, during a period of 65 to 70 years, were closely related to one another and deeply attached to one another through Kappa Alpha Theta, it seems to me that this is the key to the meaning of fraternity and the most important contribution Greek letter organizations make in meeting the challenge of the new world. . . Human relations will always remain the same; loyalty, affection and love remain vital. In fact, life cannot go on without them."

nominations

Virginia Chain Schmid, Omaha, Nebraska, an initiate of Rho, Nebraska, has been appointed chairman of Theta's Nominating Committee for 1968.

Thetas who attended the June 1967 Leadership School in Lincoln, Nebraska will remember Virginia as the talented and efficient manager of the School, attending to local details. Others will remember her as the gracious toastmistress at the 1966 Grand Convention. Prior to that she has had long experience in official Theta duties as president of the Omaha Alumnæ Chapter; president, old District VIII; on the Loan and Fellowship Committee; and three terms on Grand Council, the last term as grand vice-president for finance.

Recommendations for Grand Council officers in Theta may be made any time during the year, should be submitted if possible by May 1, 1968. Any Theta may make such a recommendation. Send to:

Mrs. Marvin G. Schmid, 625 North 69th Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68132

New Traveling Secretaries

Meet Nicole Armanino ("Nicky") who was named Woman of the Year at San Diego State last spring. A Theta at Gamma Sigma, she served her chapter as president, was also given her chapter's Theta Inspiration Award and Pansy Award. On campus she was a member of Mortar Board and was chosen for Who's Who for her activities in AWS, Greek Week, Homecoming, Student Council, was also Greek Week Chariot Queen. She will follow her Theta job with a master's degree in social welfare.

Meet Jerene Rutherford, Theta from Alpha Lambda, Washington-Seattle, and used to traveling as a former exchange student abroad. She was secretary, big-little sis and efficiency chairman for her chapter, was a straight "A" student last year and a member of Phi Alpha Theta, history honors group. She was active in ASUW Judiciary, College Bowl, Mock Political Convention, was also a Husky Honey, Rally Girl. Following her work with Theta she will attend a graduate school of librarianship.

Martha Humphrey Townsend, Delta, Illinois, receiving her fifty-year award at the Founders' Day celebration, 1967, of the Fairfield County, Connecticut, Alumnae Club, spoke thus on her early days in Theta:

I was the first Theta daughter initiated at Illinois. My mother, Louise Richardson Humphrey, was initiated at the now defunct Zeta chapter at Ohio University. My older sister, Helen, was a Theta at Alpha Iota, Washington-St. Louis; my younger sister, Mary Humphrey Morton, followed me at Illinois.

Later, after a Theta convention in my home town of St. Louis (1919), where, as a collegiate usher, I escorted Founder Hannah Fitch Shaw to the platform, I was asked to be National Paraphernalia Custodian. That big title merely meant that I bought everything needed and shipped it to each new chapter's installation.

I held this position for 18 years, during the installation of 21 chapters, and my name and address appeared in the first bound copy of the ritual before we had a Central Office. I did much of the sewing of installation supplies by hand and for years made the official banner.

Grand Slam

Arriving after the collegiate honors section had gone to press was some news too exciting to hold over until another issue. Out of the 40 top scholars in all four classes at the University of Indiana only eight were sorority women and six of these eight are Thetas! These six are, senior, Ann Meier; junior, Patricia Curry; sophomores, Anne Brafford, Anita Silvey; freshmen, Kris Beesley, Madelaine Ellis.

Heave Ho, my hearties, might be the slogan of these two Thetas who spent last spring's semester on the s. s. Ryndam, the floating campus of Chapman College. Jan Pendergast (I.) Phi, Pacific, and Nancy Gilbert, Alpha Gamma, Ohio State, took part in a fully accredited academic program while visiting cities in 16 countries along the way in a voyage which touched South America, Africa, Europe.

COLLEGIATE HONORS

It's a tradition! Each Mortar Board member at Oklahoma State University draws the name of a secret "buddy" in the fall, starts a pot of ivy for her. At the last meeting in the spring a Mortar Board Ivy Exchange is held. Among Thetas who participated in 1967 are Janice Ellison, who is shown presenting ivy she has grown to her Ivy Pal, Sharon Ryan. Looking on is Lynn Ketcham, newly elected Mortar Board and president for 1967-68.

Collegiate Honors

edited by Barbara Fuller Gilson
Gamma, Butler

◆ The number of chapters reporting collegiate honors remains about the same each year. This year we heard from 75, one up from last year. Early birds were Penn State, Michigan, Hanover, George Washington and Colorado State, in that order. And once again Butler comes out ahead with the most girls in the most honor groups. Forty-one Thetas at Butler were elected to 12 societies; Arkansas and Cincinnati tied for second with 19 girls in 9; Iowa State was third with 18 girls in 8. To one and all, congratulations for recognition well earned.—BARBARA FULLER GILSON.

The Districts Go "Mod"

District X—While national Theta made plans for Leadership School for the collegiates, District X went modern itself and set up plans for District Day for the alumnae, held on Saturday, April 22, 1967, in the Student Union Building of the University of Cincinnati. Thetas who had attended previous district meetings were key chairmen, including (in picture) l. to r., Peggy Benjamin Heyman, Bert Caine Storey, Ann McFarland Timmerman, Barbara Hess.

General sessions were kept to a minimum with no long speeches. Rather, emphasis was on buzz sessions as four groups met simultaneously to discuss topics of pertinence to Alumnae, Advisory, House Corporation and Rush Boards. Under this plan, the most important aspect of the day was the feeling of working toward a common goal in Theta and increased cooperation and communication between alumnae boards.

Registration totaled 56. Plans are already underway for a repeat!—MARTHA STUBER GRIFFITH

District XIV—With Leadership School supplanting our regular District Convention, our District went modern by planning a State Day. The "bump of curiosity" which drew 140 Theta alumnae to this started a tradition which will be repeated every two years. No one really knew what a State Day was, least of all the Tacoma alumnae who masterminded the get-together at the Hyatt House, Seattle-Tacoma Airport, April 20, 1967. But they were resourceful in making plans and sending out invitations which brought in Thetas from 14 localities—from Vancouver in Canada to Portland, Oregon. Helene Haller Meyers, Theta Foundation chairman for Western Washington, spoke on "Our Investment In the Future," while the new Institute of Logopedics film gave a glimpse of our principal national philanthropy. Marty Nutt Dunn (left in picture) and Helen Youngblood Cope, both members of Alpha, DePauw, pulled a wishbone to see who would receive award for member of the oldest Theta chapter.—JANE BROKAW GALLUP.
